

HIGHLAND CITY

Mayor's Message

Highland is a co-sponsor of a workshop on how electronics are changing the human brain and what can be done about it. The event will be held on September 13 in the Lone Peak High School auditorium and will begin at 7 PM. Dr. Christy Kane will be the keynote speaker. An interactive panel discussion will follow her presentation. The panel will include Dr. Kane, a school counselor, Police Chief Brian Gwilliam, and Fire Chief Reed Thompson. Dr. Kane spoke at our quarterly Issues and Information meeting in May. The Council Chambers and outside hallways were filled and we received positive feedback for several weeks thereafter. I would encourage parents, grandparents, and teens to attend. Arrive early to ensure that you have a seat. American Fork Hospital is covering a large portion of the cost of the event. Thank you to them! However, we will also be soliciting donations at the event to cover the balance. Any excess will go to sponsoring future events.

I would like to remind everyone to please follow the water restrictions: even addresses water only on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday; and odd address on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday. Water only between 6 PM and 10 AM. We are in a drought year and need to conserve water. Right now we are using about twice as much water as the average city. See the insert for more information on this. I know we are high achievers, but this is a contest where the biggest number is not the best :)

On a positive note, we now have an agreement in place with UDOT, Utah County, and MAG to have UDOT oversee the design and construction of the East-West Connector (aka Murdock Connector). The design will start as soon as possible and hopefully will be completed in time to begin construction next year. Council and staff worked hard to make this happen. Thanks!

The Council approved North Utah County Water Conservancy District to place sediment onto Highland City Property located southwest of the Dry Creek Lake project. In the future, this soil can be used for park construction, planting, trail shaping, etc.

August 14

Council approved an Interlocal Agreement related to the Murdock Connector road. The design will start as soon as possible and hopefully will be completed in time to begin construction next year.

August 21

Engineering Consultant, Tavis Timothy gave a presentation to City Council regarding the City's Pressurized Irrigation Water usage. Ultimately the data showed that the City, as a whole, uses almost double the amount of water that is necessary for outdoor watering. See more information about this issue in the insert.

Timp Cave monument is replacing the visitor center function and redesigning the road and parking areas. This will result in some inconveniences, but great benefits too, including improved safety, cost savings, and better patron experiences. The project will begin immediately after Labor Day and last until early June 2019. During construction there will be one lane of traffic through the construction area with a changing traffic pattern. All areas south of SR 92 including the cave trail and existing visitor center will be closed. The Swinging Bridge Picnic Area will remain open. The park is planning to open for the summer season in early June 2019. The exact schedule depends on the progress of the construction project. Updates will be provided.

This past month the Youth Council was part of the Highland Fling including the cardboard challenge, a drive in movie, a movie in the park, service projects, fireworks, the parade, and so much more. Please join us on Sept 20 at 7:00 PM at City Hall for a Town Hall meeting with US Representative John Curtis. We are excited to be hosting this governmental event!

WATER CONSERVATION REGULATIONS

Highland City has been actively advertising water conservation for several months and unfortunately we have seen little reduction to our water usage. In addition, water conservation has not been Highland's practice in the past. As a general practice for the state of Utah, lawns require roughly 3 acre-feet of water per irrigated acre over a year. During 2017, Highland City used roughly 6 acre-feet of water per irrigated acre. In comparison, a recent study conducted by Hansen, Allen, & Luce Engineering showed that other cities outdoor water use is between 2.6 and 4.3 acre-feet per irrigated acre. Highland City as a whole, uses almost double the amount of water necessary for outdoor watering.

The City has planned for drought conditions by acquiring extra groundwater and stored reservoir water rights. However, it is still important for us to conserve water. The American Fork River system, where the City receives the majority of pressurized irrigation (PI) water, is currently running at 20% compared to this time last year. As such, Highland City is operating on mostly stored water from Deer Creek Reservoir. If we continue to consume water at double what is necessary and we have another dry winter, we will use up all of our stored water and have no storage for next summer.

Due to these circumstances, Mayor Rod Mann issued a Water Conservation Proclamation on Tuesday, August 7, 2018 with the following watering requirements:

- Water between 6:00 PM and 10:00 AM
- Limit station watering time to 30 minutes (highly encouraged)
- No excessive water runoff
- Even addresses – water on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday
- Odd addresses – water on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday

Should residents not follow these requirements, the following penalties apply:

- First – Written Warning
- Second – $100 Fine
- Third – Service Lock and $200 Fine

Waiver applications are available for residents with unique hardships.

In addition to the above restrictions, the State of Utah has a great tool that recommends watering based on weather patterns and evapotranspiration rates for each week of the year. Find it at ConserveWater.Utah.Gov and on social media. Another great way to save water is to upgrade your sprinkler controller to a smart controller. These connect to your home internet and adjust your watering schedule based on the weather and other inputs you set such as Highland's watering schedule. Purchasers of smart controllers can apply for a rebate from the Central Utah Water Conservancy District. The program allows applicants to get a 50% rebate off the purchase of the controller. For more information please visit rebates.cuwcd.com.

Thank you for doing your part to help us conserve. If we each do our part, we can preserve our valuable water resources. If you have any questions, please contact us at 801-756-5751.
