Mark and Debra Thompson: A Legacy of Service in Highland City

Thank you for participating in the Fling! We would like to extend special recognition to this year's Grand Marshal.

As Highland City reflects on the legacy of its community leaders, few names carry as much history and heart as Mark and Debra Thompson. With roots reaching back to the 1920s, the Thompson family has been part of Highland's foundation—literally and figuratively—for nearly a century.

Mark's father, Reed Thompson, helped establish the Highland Water Department in 1958 and played a key role in forming the city in 1977. That spirit of service was passed down to Mark, who was raised on the same Highland land that his ancestors once farmed. Debra, born and raised in nearby American Fork, met Mark during their youth, and shortly after marrying in 1973, they moved to Highland—a place they've called home ever since.

Together, they raised four sons—Reed, Thad, Clint, and Raff—all brought up in Highland, taught the same values of faith, family, and service that have long defined the Thompson name.

Over the years, Mark Thompson has worn many hats in service to the city he loves:

- Employee of the Highland Water Company
- Volunteer Firefighter
- Lehi Irrigation Board Member
- City Councilman
- and Mayor of Highland (2014–2017)

Yet his service wasn't confined to city meetings or water lines—you could almost always find Mark out on the baseball field. Whether coaching his sons, maintaining the grounds, or simply enjoying a game, Heritage Park became a second home.

Debra Thompson also served Highland in her own quiet, steady way, working as a meter reader for the water department and supporting her family and community every step of the way.

Now retired from public office and city work, Mark and Debra remain deeply connected to Highland. They continue to care for their land, serve in church, and spend time with their grandchildren—many of whom now run and play on the same pastures their grandpa once did.

The Thompsons' story is one of legacy—of building, serving, and belonging. For Mark and Debra, Highland isn't just where they live—it's who they are.

Cemetery Cleanup - Monday, October 6th, 2025

Highland City seeks to offer families and friends that visit their loved ones in the cemetery a clean, beautiful, and peaceful environment. Please help us with this goal by keeping your site clean. On Monday, October 6th, the cemetery will be cleared of ALL grave decorations, real or artificial, including trinkets, ornaments, lamps, shepherd hooks, etc. Please make every effort to remove decorations from your loved one's grave prior to the cleanup, as remaining decorations are typically discarded. Questions? Please call (801) 772-4505.

Protecting Highland's Public Property—Encroachment

Highland City is fortunate to have beautiful public lands—parks, trails, open spaces, and landscaped areas—that belong to all residents. Unfortunately, some of these areas have been subject to encroachment, which occurs when a private property owner extends their use or improvements onto City-owned land without authorization. Examples include fences, sheds, trampolines, gardens, landscaping, or irrigation systems placed beyond private property lines.

Encroachments are not allowed unless approved through a written Maintenance Agreement with the City. These agreements ensure that any private use of public land benefits the community as a whole, not just individual property owners. Unauthorized encroachments can increase maintenance costs for taxpayers, limit public access, and conflict with the City's long-term land-use goals.

If you think you may have encroached—intentionally or not—please check your property boundaries using the Utah County Parcel Map at maps.utahcounty.gov/ParcelMap. Residents who have encroached must either remove the improvements and restore the land or apply for a Maintenance Agreement.

Together, we can preserve Highland's open spaces and keep our community beautiful for current and future generations. For questions about encroachment or Maintenance Agreements, please contact Highland City at (801) 756-5751.

City Budget Overview

The City has published a document that gives a brief overview of the City's budget for fiscal year 2026. This document is called the "Citizens' Budget" and can be found on the City's website at <https://bit.ly/HC-citizensbudget>.

The Citizens' Budget covers:

- Interesting statistics and demographics about Highland
- How property and sales taxes are shared
- City revenue sources and expected amounts
- Anticipated budget expenditures by department
- A look at a number of projects that have been funded for the next year

The Citizens' Budget is meant to help our residents better understand where the City's funding comes from and how it is used to improve our community, so check it out!

Friends of the Library The Friends of the Highland City Library sent a cavalcade of books out into the world in August. The journey began at the library's giant book sale. Clover the Cow was there for the sendoff, and hundreds of books were purchased and sent home with dozens of area residents. Some books went to neighboring areas, and others will travel as far as Ghana. Many thanks to those who donated, sorted, picked up, organized, stacked, stored, and bought these beautiful wandering books. All profits from the sale will be used to support library programs and needs.

Senior Appreciation Dinner

We look forward to seeing you there!

A Community of Care

The Food and Care Coalition is a nonprofit organization dedicated to alleviating poverty and homelessness in Utah County. Since 1988, we've provided 3 million daily meals, transitional housing, medical, dental, and mental health services, employment support, to individuals in need. This is made possible by the generosity of our community. Most of our funding comes from public donations.

Highland residents, churches, businesses, and schools can play a role in supporting our mission. Please consider donating or hosting a collection drive. Together, we make a difference! Current Needs in Addition to Financial: Shampoo & Conditioner, Deodorant, Toilet Paper, Paper Towels, Heavy-Duty 33-Gallon Trash Bags. Learn more at foodandcare.org or email: volunteer@foodandcare.org.

Tell Us What Matters: Annual Resident Survey

Highland City invites all adult residents to share their opinions in the annual survey. Your feedback helps guide City priorities and future projects.
