Irrigation Season Update

By Laurie Adams, P.I. Coordinator

With only six weeks of the irrigation season left we would like to thank those citizens who have been so diligent in conserving water. We appreciate those who have called over the summer with concerns and suggestions. The City needs to thank Ryan Larsen, our Pressurized Irrigation Superintendent, who has spent countless hours (sometimes 60 hours a week) keeping water in the reservoir.

A portion of the water we are currently using comes from Deer Creek Reservoir. Our allocation can be carried to the next season if we don't use it this fall. This could be extremely useful next season if the drought continues. With this in mind, and with the cooler temperatures, it is recommended that we all cut back to watering once every six days.

Fence Permits Required for New Fences

The City is still having problems with people building fences without fence permits. Obtain a permit from the City Office before installing a fence and pay the $20 fee. Applicants must submit a sketch showing the lot, location of the fence on the lot, proposed heights of the fence, location of driveways on the lot and adjacent properties. Please contact the City Office if you are not aware of the proper setbacks.

Youth City Council Update

By Janet King, Advisor

The Youth Council completed another successful youth dance during the Fling. Thanks to all the Youth Council members and their very important chaperones for making this an exciting and safe event. We also want to thank Dimitri's and Domino's Pizza for their generous donation of free, and greatly reduced priced pizzas. Please support our local pizza parlors in show of appreciation for all they do for our great city.

The Youth Council delivered the Shadow of Light Backpacks for those less fortunate school age children in the community before school started. It has been a great Utah County Service Project involving other Youth Councils in the area. This is just one of the many great service projects we do throughout the year. Yet another example that a few hard working and dedicated people can, and do, make a big difference.

Message from the Police Chief

By Kip Botkin, Police Chief

One large increase we see at this time of year in animal control calls involves non-domestic animals (skunks and raccoons). Our part-time Animal Control Officer's primary charge and responsibility is in the regulation and control of domestic animals. Although vermin/vector control is very important to us as community servants, verman/vetor control is not primarily our responsibility. Over the past few months we have averaged 3-5 racoon calls per week wherein a racoon is contained within a trap. Our policy is that our Animal Control Officer will respond to "racoons in traps" calls. In fact, our Live Animal Trap Loan Agreement indicates that no animals in traps will be picked up on weekends or holidays. We are modifying that to include when the Animal Control officer is not on duty. Those citizens that are unable to keep the trapped animal until the next business day should telephone the police department and options will be outlined for the citizen. Due to racoons being one of our problem areas, especially in the Spring, Summer, and Fall seasons, there is information available at the Police Department concerning racoon facts, problems, behavior, legal status, and control.

Due to the unique issues present in dealing with skunks, our policy is that we refer all skunk matters to other agencies. Handouts concerning skunks as a nuisance are available at the police department.

As an informational item, effective July 1, 2004, we no longer do courtesy fingerprinting, but refer those needing to be fingerprinted to the State Bureau of Criminal Identification (BCI). BCI is a state agency which forwards the cards to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for a nationwide check. Eliminating us as an additional link in the chain will increase efficiency.

Condolences

Condolence is expressed to the family of Chad Robinson, who recently passed away.
