Slow the Flow, Save H₂O, Do Your Part, Be Water Smart

Conserve, Conserve, Conserve

By Laurie Adams & Ryan Larsen, P.I. Coordinators

Are you tired of hearing these slogans over and over again? Are you tired of a drought that doesn't seem to go away? You are not alone. Unfortunately nothing much has changed this year compared to the last four years except that Highland has more homes and parks to water. This adds up to just one thing, we all need to do a little more to help conserve this precious resource. Studies have shown that water usage usually goes up during mandatory restrictions, so unless things get extremely bad Highland will depend on its citizens to cut back their water use because you care and understand the seriousness of the situation. Thank you for all of your efforts!

Below are basic water conservation measures. We have also listed a few web sites that have great water savings ideas. Highland City will also provide (free of charge) copies of numerous articles and ideas for saving water. Just stop by the office to pick one up for you and a neighbor you think could use it.

PROPOSED WATERING SCHEDULE

MONTH	INTERVAL
Startup until April 30	Once every 6 days
May	Once every 4 days
June*	Once every 3 days
July*	Once every 3 days
August*	Once every 3 days
September	Once every 6 days
October	Once every 10 days

*It is strongly recommended that new lawns not be planted during these months

To determine how long you should water during each interval you can have a free "water check" of your system or hose sprinklers. A person will come to your home or business and evaluate your soil and system. They will give you a personalized water schedule and a folder with water conservation tips. This free service is being provided by Central Utah Water Conservancy District and Utah State University. Please call for an appointment today! (851-8460)

If you can't participate in the free "water check" or pick up a packet from Highland City then consider the following ways to save water:

1. Shallow watering every day is about the worst thing you can do for your lawn. A lawn's roots should be 12 to 18 inches deep. The deeper the root system, the more days you can wait between irrigation.
2. Water right—not during the heat of the day (don't water between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.)
3. Let your grass grow longer (2-3") and leave grass clippings on the lawn as a nutrient source. The soil moisture will be improved.
4. Water it deep. Use a soil probe or screwdriver to see how far down the moisture is. It is recommended that seven minutes in three rotations (total of 21 minutes per station) is better than all at once. The water penetrates farther if given a chance to soak in.

5. Don't over water. Avoid puddling and runoff. Excess watering means fertilizers and pesticides move past the root zone or down the driveway.
6. Avoid watering on windy days or when it rains. If you are at home push rain on your timer and wait to water another day!
7. Use a shut-off nozzle for your hose and never use water to clean driveways and sidewalks.
8. Check for leaks and tune up your sprinklers regularly. Don't water things that don't grow!
9. Don't set your sprinklers at the beginning of spring and leave them the same until fall. Get involved with the seasons and the amount of water your lawn really needs.
10. Consider diversifying your landscape using plants and trees which are more water efficient.
11. Use mulch around trees and plants. A layer (3-4") cools flower beds, inhibits weeds and slows evaporation of moisture.
12. Consider using drip systems in gardens and small areas like planter strips. Plants love this type of watering.

Bottom line, we are all in this together, the shortage of water statewide not only comes from the drought, but from the growth the state has experienced. Water conservation is a long term habit we need to incorporate into our lives. Thanks for doing your part!

Landscaping Materials on Streets

By Lonnie Crowell, Asst. Dir. Planning & Zoning

It is spring and time to landscape; however there has been a recent problem with landscaping material being placed in the right-of-way (sidewalk, park strip, curb, gutter, and road). These materials are plugging the City's sump system as they drain from the streets. It will cost you due to equipment and man hours required to remove it. A recent ordinance has been adopted which may charge the responsible party $500, or more, per incident. If your material (dirt, bark, rocks, etc.) is located in the road it may also be removed at your expense. Please inform your landscaper of these concerns when having material delivered and make sure it is located on your property.

Youth City Council Update

By Janet King, Advisor

The Youth Council Advisors would like to thank the 2003-04 Youth Council for an outstanding year of service. Megan Lux did an excellent job serving as our Youth Mayor. She committed her time, energy, and ideas and gave a full year of dedicated service to the Youth Council and City of Highland. It was a joy serving with her and the other members of the Youth Council.

On Saturday, May 15, the Youth Council invited the Mayor, City Council, and staff members to the unveiling of this year's legacy project at Mitchell Hollow Park. An entrance sign for Mitchell Hollow Park was designed by the Council, constructed, and installed. Chelsea Olsen was in charge of the Legacy Committee and she put in many hours, along with her parents, to see this project completed. The design on this project will hopefully be used as a model for all future city and park entrance signs. Come to Mitchell Hollow Park and enjoy this new addition to an already beautiful park.

The new Council for 2004-05 has been selected. Each year we have many very qualified applicants and the selection process is always a difficult one. Thanks to all those who applied and congratulations to the following students who were selected to serve on the Youth Council: Phillip Bassett, Zac Carter, Brian Correy, Lyndon Garrett, Aspen King, Brooke Lasky, Danielle Leavitt, Mandy Loader, Kelsy Moe, Lauren Mortensen, Trevor Olsen, Gregory Pyper, Allie Scott, Scott Stevens, and Jared Stoddard. We look forward to a good year working with these great youth.

Message from Police Chief Kip Botkin

Concern has been raised on the increased number of motorized scooters that are being driven on our public streets, especially at night. This is a situation that will only increase in numbers as school ends and our students have more free time on their hands. Although the motorized scooters are certainly convenient and handy, there attaches serious responsibility with their operation. Sales personnel will quickly say they are legal, which they are, BUT WITH RESTRICTIONS. Section 41-6-90.5 of the Utah State Code deals with Motor Assisted Scooters and outlines the allowable conditions for their operation. To list only a few of the restrictions: a person under 16 years of age must be under the direct supervision of a parent or guardian while operating the scooter; they may not be ridden on the sidewalk, or on any street or highway which has a posted speed limit greater than 25 MPH (so they are NOT LEGAL ON THE Alpine Highway). There are other restrictions for their operation.

We are asking that parents acquaint themselves with the laws concerning motorized scooters, teach their children these laws, and assist us in keeping our community safe. Although these have the appearance of “toys” in actuality they are motorized vehicles and, therefore, their safe operation requires serious responsibility. Riding them at night, or contrary to the allowable restrictions, is very dangerous. Should you have any questions, please feel free to call the Police Department at 756-9800.
